Remembrance Day

Last Friday we held a short Remembrance Day Ceremony to remember this very special day. The students behaviour and attitude were exemplary. Thank you to Jessica and Lilly for attending The Richmond Remembrance Day Service on Saturday, representing Hobartville PS.

Another Film Award!

In 2016, S3M created a short film called 'The New Teacher' which received best film by a school and best film produced by an Indigenous student at the Kidzflix Sydney International Festival of Films for Children in May.

The film was then submitted for selection at a number of International film festivals. We were picked up by the Pequeno Cineasta film festival in Brazil, which featured entries from students all over the world. (See next page for nominees) It was accepted for screening and has received the Popular Jury Award for the International Children's Competitive Exhibition Section. It is important to note that we were up against schools from Europe who had assistance from people in the film industry and private schools operating with expensive equipment. We shot the film with one camera, a microphone and edited it in iMovie!

It is an incredible achievement for a NSW Public School to be recognised on the International stage. Well done Mr Morabito and S3M.

P&C

Thank you to the P&C, in particular Kelly Gardiner for all the hard work in collecting money and organising the prizes for the Walk-A-Thon. We will be ordering some Voice Tubes, a Glockenspiel Panel and an Outdoor Drum for our back playground.

Learning positive friendship skills

Helping children cope with conflict and disagreements

Children learn a lot about the give and take of relationships just from playing together, and they need lots of opportunities to learn to work things out for themselves. It is during play in the early years some children find they can get what they want through aggression, while others allow themselves to be pushed around or not get a turn. Due to this, sometimes children need adult help to work things out. Watchful adults can help with problems between children by helping each child to see how others feel and to say what they want.

It is important to help all children express their feelings and learn the skills to work things out. Sometimes, adults might be tempted to step in, take over and tell children what to do or not to do. This may make children feel that they are not capable of working it out for themselves and keeps them reliant on adults. Children need to learn why conflict arises and how to work it out among themselves.

Parents and carers can help children manage conflict by:

- Making a connection with each of the children involved in the conflict (eg by making eye contact and making sure that each child knows that you are there to care for and help them).
- Teaching children to use words rather than actions.
- Helping each child to say how they feel.
- Helping children to understand some words are hurtful.
- Encouraging each child to say what they would like to happen.
- Supporting children to think of things they could do to try and solve the problem.
- Acknowledging children doing well. This can be shown with a smile, a friendly glance, a comment (eg telling them what they are doing well and asking them to tell you how they did it).
- Following up and making sure children understand their problem solving worked well or talking to them about other solutions if things did not go so well.
